This garment will symbolise our loss and traumas we have experienced in our lives. You are invited to bring little pieces of cloth, and place them in the basket at the foot of the altar. The cloth represents ourselves, or a family member, or friend, living or deceased. The little pieces of fabric will be gathered on the evening of Palm Sunday 13th April, and sewn together into one complete garment, a labour of love. During our Triduum and Easter services in Annagry 2025, we will pray to be healed. What is unique about this ritual is that you will be able to see and recognise your own piece of cloth, your own grief and suffering, loss, separation and bereavement and yet understand that so many others share similar worries. 'By His Wounds We are Healed.'
